GREETINGS FOR 1959

We take great pleasure in presenting this little catalog for your approval. It has required many long hours of planning and preparation, and we hope you will enjoy reading through it and that you will find items of interest.

May we take this opportunity to thank our many customers for their splendid past orders, and those who have written to us expressing their satisfaction and thanks for the extras. I wish we had time to answer all of you personally. We hope also, to be able to serve you again this year. To prospective new customers, try us and we know you will be pleased.

We have a good supply of many varieties and are passing the saving on to you in lowered prices and money saving collections. In spite of the large stocks, many varieties will sell out before the season is over, so send your order in early.

We are growing each year and it is you our customers, who have made it possible. Again, we say "Thank you".

Visitors are always welcome, but a special invitation to you at IRIS BLOOMING TIME, April and May, with our peak bloom about May 1st.

Valley Center is 9 miles northeast of Escondido, on the road to Mt. Palomar, where the famous observatory is located. We are on the main road . . . just look for our sign.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Frances J. Lawson

IRIS CULTURE

Iris are easy to plant and require a minimum of care. They will do well in almost any sunny, well drained spot. Spread the roots and plant so the rhizome is just barely covered with soil. The soil should be kept moist until the plant is well established, then withstand drought and neglect, but respond bountifully to proper care and culture. Bone meal may be worked into the soil before planting, a small handful to each plant, or used as a side dressing once a year. Be careful if you use fertilizers, not to let it come in contact with the rhizome, as it may cause rot. Since iris multiply rapidly, planting should be spaced from 12 to 18 inches apart to allow for proper ventilation. Divide them about every three years for best results.

Dwarf, Intermediate, Table, Border and Fall Blooming Iris

We find a growing interest in these shorter and smaller editions of the tall bearded varieties. The shorter bloom stalks are useful in the rock garden and for border plantings. The smaller blossoms are ideal in arrangements. Most of the rhizomes are small. Height 15" to 28". Following the name you will find the height in inches.
